

Restaurant Pledge: Let Bluefin Tuna Off the Hook

The bluefin tuna, one of the world's most remarkable ocean creatures renowned for its strength and mighty speed, is in trouble and urgently needs our help.

Overfishing is driving this magnificent fish toward the brink of extinction, and yet many sushi restaurants continue to serve it.

To save this important species, I'm joining the Center for Biological Diversity in boycotting bluefin tuna to raise awareness about its plight and help shut down the consumer demand for this critically imperiled fish.

As a restaurant owner or chef, I will join the Bluefin Boycott.

I pledge to boycott the consumption of bluefin tuna by:

- not eating bluefin tuna;
- not buying bluefin tuna;
- not serving bluefin tuna.
