PROTECT MONARCH BUTTERFLIES

Protect monarch butterfly habitat by requiring all your avocado producers to use Guardian Forestál's Pro-Forest Agriculture certification program. More than 90% of Mexican avocado exports to the United States are already certified by this program, which prevents avocados grown on newly deforested land from reaching U.S. markets. Unless all avocado-importing packinghouses use the program, Mexico's precious forests – and the animals and people who depend on them – will remain in peril. Trader Joe's should commit to selling deforestation-free avocados.
