

Make your mobile phone whale

Free endangered species ringtones on offer

By Tony Dennis

December 19, 2006

WANT YOUR mobile phone to sound like a Beluga Whale, Boreal Owl, or Mountain Yellow-legged Frog? Well the Centre for Biological Diversity can help.

These ringtones can be downloaded (for free) from the Centre's web site.

The site allows surfers to listen to the wildlife ringtones, and then send them directly to their phones after entering an email address.

The Centre is, of course, a non-profit organisation aiming to help endangered wildlife species. So the hope is that some of you will feel obliged to donate some money to their cause. μ

L'INQ

Centre's ringtone site